DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figures 2-7 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the specification does not include a brief description of the drawings. Appropriate correction is required. It is also suggested that applicant insert headings in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The limitation "said ligament shim" lacks sufficient antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Harwin (5,876,455). Harwin discloses ligament shim 10 for insertion into a bone tunnel comprising a body having at least two walls extending in a first direction 10', 10" and defining a cross-sectional area in a second direction that is conforming to at least a portion of the interstitial space defined by at least one ligament 3 extending through the mouth of the bone tunnel, whereby when the shim is place in the interstitial space 4, the shim will hold the at least one ligament against a wall of the bone tunnel (figure 3, column 2 lines 45-53). As to claim 2, Harwin shows a method for securing at least one ligament to a bone within a bone tunnel, the bone tunnel having a transverse cross-sectional area greater than a transverse cross-sectional area of the ligament (figure 3), the method comprising inserting the at least one ligament into the bone tunnel; attaching the at least one ligament to the bone; and inserting the ligament shim 10 into the bone tunnel so as to occupy a portion of the transverse cross-sectional area of the bone tunnel (column 1 lines 28-40, column 2 lines 32-53).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Beck, Jr. et al. ( 5,632,748) and Boucher et al. (5,931,869) are cited to show the state of the art with respect to ligament shims.
